CREAM BEIGE VEIN CUT TRAVERTINE

Vein Cut (The Linear Look),

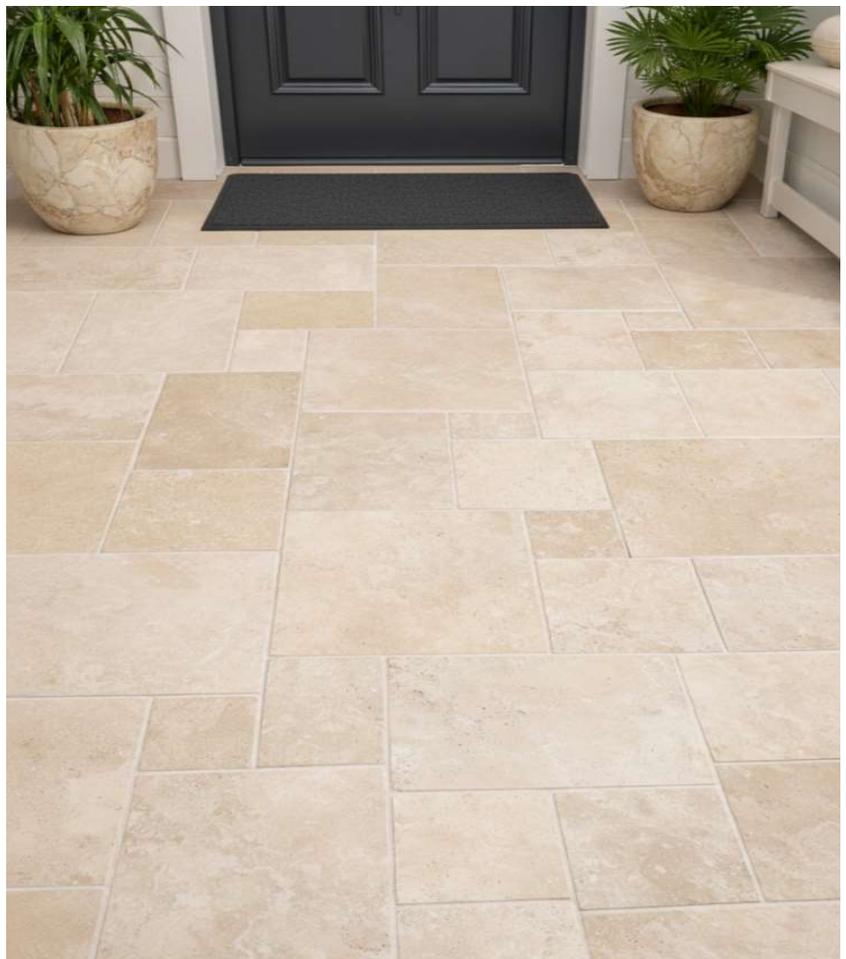

The stone is sliced vertically across the natural bedding planes. This reveals the "veins" or layers that took millions of years to form. Visual Characteristic for Vein Cut travertine is Long, continuous, and parallel lines. Choose Vein Cut if you want to make a statement or lead the eye in a specific direction.

Before diving into the styles, it is important to understand that both cuts come from the exact same stone block. The difference is simply the direction of the saw.

CREAM BEIGE CROSS CUT TRAVERTINE

Cross Cut ,

The block is flipped 90 degrees and sliced parallel to the sediment layers. This hides the lines and exposes the circular cloud patterns of the stone. Visual Characteristic for Cross Cut Travertine is cloudy swirls and random tonal patches. Choose Cross Cut if you want a natural, timeless look that masks dirt and wear more effectively.

CREAM BEIGE TRAVERTINE
NATURAL STONE

Because Travertine is a porous stone, both cuts will feature small holes. You must decide between "Filled" (holes plugged with natural filling materials) or "Unfilled" (natural holes left open) for either cut.
